Module name: Config Extension	Test executed by: Zirochka
Test title: !save-config command functionality	Test designed date: Zirochka
Description: Changes data on disk after changing data via Bot in Discord

Pre-conditions:
- Discord app is open
- Docker must be running
- The Bot must be placed in the Discord test guild
- The bot's internal files, including config, must be on disk.

Step	Step Details	Sample test data:	Expected results	Actual results	Status	Note
1	Open channel with the "Overlady" bot in Discord guild				Pass
2	Use command !alter-config to change data via bot	!set-conf bot.command >>> help = ["help", "h", "man", "manual", "what-can-you-do?"]	Bot response: Operation completed successfully	Bot response: Operation completed successfully	Pass
3	Open the config file overlord.cfg		New changes are not saved to disk	The config is automatically updated and saved to disk without entering !save-config command	Failed	Bug
4	Use command !save-config to save the config to disk		Bot response: Operation completed successfully	Data has already been saved	Blocked

| 5 | Use the !what-can-you-do? command to check utility changes. | | The bot's response is a help list with a !what-can-you-do? utility in the commands section. | | Blocked | |
